

Gentleman Jim

To Coyne a phrase a gentle young Jim ;
If people could only be a little like him .
Two Thousand years but not long ago ;
Another Young Man wished it were so.

****

Just to see goodness from near and afar;
And not to see monsters when having a jar.

To talk and see the goodness in me;
And remember for each is Life's destiny.

****

He can also see life through the eyes of a child;
Some gladness and sadness as he's running wild.

Wild in a way that is the nature of the free;
Not guided by hate or harsh jealousy.

****

So if you want to find a man who is simply your friend

Enjoy the beginning but always remember the end;

Life will simply be full to the brim;

And all because you knew Gentleman Jim.

So if Smirnoff sees pure and clarifies my view;
Drink can make a friend both poetic and true.
Tomorrow he'll wake with a very dry throat.
And maybe some day we'll ponder what's wrote !
