

The Thursday Club

Thursday night and what is our best?
Dan's psycho-babble out from the West,
Jim just listening in his best vest,
And Greg to his music , he does attest.

Josie is jumping right out of the sky ,
Yes do it ! we said , without knowing why ,
Mick is off rambling about Pints and a Pie ,
George is just thinking , " Lord , why , oh! just why?

Social engagement that's the name of the game,
Sometimes its not even near the same frame,
Is it raining outside ? and that's just being tame,
Dan cannot make it his leg has gone all lame.

We'll all have another , well just one or two,
Good judgement is rare but it's what we pursue,
Burger and chips are now all in our view,
And we don't even get home till quarter to two.

So Jim just wants bullshit and pints he can drink,
Dan wants core values , They cause you to think !
George says his belly is starting to shrink,
Dan says " you need one " white coat and the Klink.

So this week's story has just been retold,
The memories are brilliant , better than gold,
Big men and small men - the brave and the bold
Reading the last line , the insights unfold !
